

ATTORNEY ASSASSINATED.

Shot Down as He Stood in Court-house Door at Jackson, Ky.

Election Contest and a Feud Fought in the Case.

Lexington, Ky., May 4.—Just after he had finished filing papers, reopening the contested election cases of Breathitt county, James B. Marcum was shot and killed by an unknown assassin. He fell in his tracks in the front entrance of the courthouse at Jackson, Ky., and never spoke, death being almost instantaneous. He fell within a few yards of where Town Marshal James Cockrell was shot down in July, the assassin being stationed in the courthouse in each instance. Marcum was counsel for the fusionists, who are contesting for the offices of county judge, sheriff and other places now held by Democrats. As a result of his efforts and his sympathy with the Cockrell faction in the Hargis-Cockrell feud, he had for a year been generally regarded as a "marked man."

Various plots to assassinate him have been reported and sworn to in affidavits. For 72 days last fall he was a prisoner in his own home, daring not even to go out on his porch. The bitterness of the feud somewhat abated, however, and the election cases were allowed to sleep until Monday. Despite warnings, Marcum felt safe in resuming his interrupted practice some time ago, and felt secure in filing a motion to reopen the cases which had imperiled his life months before.

BIG MINE PRODUCTION.

Earlington No. 11 Pushing the Record for the Thrifty Mine.

AVERAGES ONE THOUSAND TONS DAILY.

On April 18 the No. 11 mine of the St. Bernard Mining Company, at this place, produced an output of 555 tons of coal. The product of this mine has been largely increased during the past few months and No. 11 is now in shape to average 1,000 tons daily. This output is expected to make further increase and it is the opinion of the miners who make this large daily tonnage that the Reinecke mine, now holding the record, will have to hump itself or it will lose the horns as the largest producing single mine in Kentucky. Some of the employees promise to make smashing records at mining and handling coal in the near future.

HEARTY NEW JERSEY MAN

Alleged to Have Two Cardiac Pumping Stations in His Anatomy.

Pateron, N. J., May 2.—John Firman, twenty-five years old, living here, has two hearts beating in his own breast. He is a fine specimen of physical manhood and constantly enjoys good health. In 1898 it was discovered that he had a double heart when he was examined for enlistment with the Second regiment at Pateron. Since then Firman has been more or less interesting to physicians.

An X-ray photograph shows the most peculiar heart formation the doctors of Pateron have ever seen or heard of.

In an engagement in Somaliland between the British forces and the Mad Mullah's forces, 2,000 of the latter are reported to have been killed.

The Soundness of Solomon.

The New York Sun sets forth an array of proverbs condemnatory of women. Proverbs are supposed to be the product of men grown wise by experience. But men often have a more retentive memory concerning their failures than of the good deeds done them by others. The man rejected by a beautiful woman may say with the Spanish proverb builder: "Were a woman as little as she is good, a pea pod would make her a gown and a hood." Or in the bitterness of his disappointment he may with the English soothsayer declare: "If a man lose a woman and a farthing he will be sorry he lost the farthing."

The French have a proverb that fits exactly the case of a disappointed fortune hunter: "A man of straw is worth a woman of gold." It was surely some old German widower who, having laid one wife in the grave, failed, for good reasons, to attract another, who said: "There are only two good women in the world—one dead and the other can't be found." It was a Scotchman, whose penuriousness robbed him of true wisdom, who averred: "Honest men marry soon, wise men never."

Nothing better could be expected from the barbarous Arab than: "Words are women, deeds are men." The Perizans are even more unjust, but their barbarism tells its own tale. They say, for instance, that women and dragons are best out of the world. The Hindus, who till recently practiced human sacrifice, declare: "A man is not obeyed by his wife in his own house, nor does she consider him her husband, unless he beats her." It may have been from these dusky semi-savages that our half-civilized fathers got the cruel saying: "A woman, a dog and a walnut tree, the more you beat them the better they be." A Corsican bandit has afflicted posterity with this cold-blooded monstrosity: "Just as a good and a bad horse both need a spur, a good and a bad woman both need a stick."

What is the answer of woman, thus maligned and misrepresented, menaced and slandered? She turns in triumph to that grand old seer, statesman, king and prophet, Solomon, the wisest of men. So much wisdom did this sapient monarch possess that, having found one wife good, he never stopped marrying till he had a thousand. With such wide, varied and interesting experience of the sex it was that in the exuberance of gratitude and admiration he exclaimed that the value of the virtuous woman is "far above rubies."

His happy marital experience inspired him further: "The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good, and not evil, all the days of her life." As if this were not vindication complete and strong enough, Solomon adds: "Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land."

The truly wise man will quote no proverbs against woman. With the Solomon of old and a million of Solomons of today at her call, she can triumphantly put the proverbial folly of Persian, Hindu, Frenchman, Spaniard, Corsican or German to sleep.

With a hat-pin as her only weapon, Miss Mayme Andrews, of St. Louis, put to rout a highwayman who attempted to hold her up.

About Kentucky Women.

Kentucky women are among the loveliest in the world and renowned the world over for tact and gentleness as well as beauty and dash. They have been sought in marriage by Governors, Senators, Congressmen, Counts and Earls, and have in nearly every instance been the superiors of the men they have married. These Kentucky women have been the wives, mothers, sisters, daughters and sweethearts of the men who have made the laws, preached the gospel, healed the sick and fought the battles of the United States.—Birmingham, Ala., Ledger.

Each keg will hold $10,000 in silver coin for circulation in the Philippines. There will be 250 of these kegs, with a total of $2,500,000 in silver. At New York the kegs will be loaded upon a Government transport under a heavy guard of United States marines.

MORE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

KILLED WHILE RESISTING ARREST.

Frank Cardinal Meets Death at White Plains Last Saturday.

Frank Cardinal, who lived near Madisonville, went to White Plains Saturday to have a settlement with a Mrs. Skaggs, of that place. During the conversation regarding the settlement Cardinal became very much angered and drew his pistol, threatening to shoot Mrs. Skaggs. She had a warrant issued for him and placed in the hands of F. O. Allison, city marshal. In the meantime Cardinal had mounted his horse and was leaving the place. Allison overtook him and demanded that he stop, as he had an order for his arrest. Instead of replying Cardinal opened fire on Allison, who dropped on his horse's neck and returned the fire without taking any special aim. Cardinal fell from his horse dead with a bullet hole just above the left nipple. Coroner Rogers, of Madisonville, was notified and held an inquest. The jury returned a verdict of "justifiable killing, as it was in self defense." The above are the facts in the case as related by Mr. Allison, who was here Monday. He also states that Cardinal, in conversation with Coroner Rogers, made the statement Friday that he, Cardinal, was going to White Plains the following day and kill someone or be killed himself.

United States Deputy Marshal James C. Asher was killed and two alleged moonshiners were wounded in a battle near Whitesburg, Ky.

MARION MCCORD DIES SUDDENLY

At the Residence of Ninon Gordon From Heart Failure.

Marion McCord, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCord, and a prominent contractor of this place, died suddenly at the home of Ninon Gordon last Thursday noon. He had eaten dinner and was conversing with his niece, Mrs. Gordon, when he complained of a pain around his heart. He had scarcely uttered the words before his head fell on the back of his chair and he sank into an unconscious condition. Mrs. Gordon at once summoned Dr. Mothershead but the patient died in a few moments after the doctor arrived.

Marion had had considerable domestic trouble lately and was recovering from a protracted spree. Dr. Mothershead had been attending him for several days and had spent a greater portion of the night of April 23rd with him and says that his heart was considerably affected. It has only been a short time since his wife left him and since that time McCord had been imbibing very freely up until three days before his death. He leaves three children, a boy and two girls by his second wife who will reside with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCord, of near this place.

He was 45 years old at the time of his death and when not under the influence of drink was a good citizen and a true friend, but like thousands of others he was his own worst enemy. The bereaved father and mother and his little children have the tender sympathy of their many friends.

The several rumors about regarding the manner of Mr. McCord's death or that he committed suicide are without foundation, as Dr. Mothershead, the attending physician, states positively that such was not the case.

The Railroad Hog.

All travelers are familiar with the sign in every railroad coach asking passengers to refrain from spitting on the floor. Another should be posted asking men, or more properly speaking, "hogs," to keep their feet off the seats. It's a common occurrence to see a man turn over the forward seat and place his mud-hooks on the plush covered seat, not only soiling the seat, but taking up the room of three passengers when he has only paid one fare. When you see a man do this you readily size him up as a selfish, filthy hog, who if he has any home, keeps it in the same condition that he is making the plush-covered seat. You may take the dirtiest hog from the pen, wash him carefully and put him in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, and he's still a hog. This same rule applies to people. If they have been raised in a filthy house, they will try to make their surroundings to correspond therewith.—Central Record.

Stockings and Gloves of Paper.

Paper gloves and stockings are now being manufactured in Europe. As to the manner in which the paper gloves are made little is known; but the stockings have been carefully examined by experts, and they are loud in their praise of them. It is said they will last almost as long as ordinary stockings, owing to the fact that the paper of which they are made was, during the process of manufacture, transformed into a substance closely resembling wool, and was then woven and otherwise treated as ordinary wool.—New York Press.

BOUGHT SHAMROCK.

St. Bernard Mining Company Has Purchased a Developed Property in Webster.

OWNS LAND AND WILL MAKE A LARGE MINE.

The purchase of the Shamrock mine by the St. Bernard Mining Company was consummated last week. Mr. E. G. Sebrer, for the St. Bernard company, went to Providence and completed the details of the transaction. The purchase price was $24,000, which covers the development and equipment, including about 100 acres of land fee simple. The mine has been producing coal in a small way for about four months. During the past year the St. Bernard has purchased land and mining rights in the vicinity of Providence and adjoining the Shamrock operation and has been prospecting to determine location for their proposed mine. In the mean time the Shamrock offered for sale and is now bought. Improvements will be put in and the mine developed so as to be a good producer for the next coal season. This latter statement is not made on authority, but the general reputation of the St. Bernard justifies it as a good guess.

ANOTHER NARROW ESCAPE

From the Dire Predictions of a Madisonville Dispatch.

COUNTY IS NOT YET WRAPPED IN TROUBLE.

The following is a sample dispatch sent out from Madisonville touching the threadbare miner's union question in Hopkins county:

Madisonville, Ky., May 1.—Indications now are that a renewed attempt will be made at organizing the non-union coal miners in Hopkins county.

It has for some weeks been believed that the idea of renewing the fight, as was reported, this year had been abandoned, as all excitement caused by the rumor that John Mitchell would come and direct a strike in these fields, but from a movement that is now being made by the United Mine Workers of America, there is no doubt that the fight will be renewed within the next day or two.

Union Leader J. D. Wood, who directed the bloody fight in this section over a year ago, and other prominent labor leaders are billed to make labor speeches in this city tomorrow afternoon, and it is almost certain that following this will come trouble.

It has not been given out as yet as to whether or not National President John Mitchell will be here to direct the fight.

The only comment necessary is that there were no speakers and no speaking and there is no trouble.

Horse Dies.

Mrs. Wright, of Richland, was here Monday asking aid to buy a horse for her son, of that place. He was newly married and his horse, the only one he had to make a crop with, unexpectedly died. Mrs. Wright had several names on her list and no doubt the required amount will be made up.

Stick to Kentucky.

"The world has just realized the vastness of our State's mineral and other resources, and capital will come and invigorate it, strengthen it and build it up. Kentuckians have a State rich in everything that nature gives to mankind; it is the duty of Kentuckians to use those blessings to the best advantage—to do as others would do with them. Stick to Kentucky and you'll be glad of it.—Hodgenville Herald.

Will Phillips, the genial and jovial assistant cashier of the Earlington Bank has a tender heart, as will be seen from the following incident. A half starved dog was lying across the street from the bank and Will, after contemplating the dog in silence for some time, conceived the idea that the aforesaid dog was hungry. This idea so completely possessed him that he could neither work nor rest until he had secured a hind leg of a cow and placed it before the nose of the astonished dog. The dog wagged his tail and licked his chops, saying as plain as possible, "thank you."

Caution.

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boecher's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary coughs and colds, and drugs and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Croup, Whooping Cough, and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing day and night and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25c size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store.

MID-SUMMER RAIL-ROAD EDITION.

The Bee Will Issue Illustrated Number Devoted to Henderson Division L. & N.

INTERESTING HISTORIC DATA WILL BE PUBLISHED FOR FIRST TIME.

THE BEE's special mid-summer railroad edition will be one of the best railroad papers ever issued in Kentucky. In addition to the personal write-ups of the railroad men of the Henderson Division and their half-tone cuts, it will contain views of important railroad buildings along the line, such as the new passenger station at Evansville, the round-houses at Howell and Earlington, the depot at Earlington and other places and views of passenger and freight trains. A complete history of the Henderson Division from the time it was surveyed up to the present time, the changes it has undergone and a great deal of interesting railroad data will be given in this edition.

A great many of the men on the division have already subscribed for copies of the mid-summer edition and others are subscribing every day. We wish to make this a thoroughly creditable special edition of THE BEE and want the co-operation of every railroad man on the Henderson Division. It is gotten up in their interest and benefit, and consequently should receive their liberal patronage.

W. F. Sheridan, our recent train master said before he left for Mexico that a railroad paper of this character was worth $5 to any H. D. railroad man now and in the course of time would be worth $20, on account of the personal write-ups of the men if nothing else.

All of the dispatchers, including the chief, several conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen have already signed contracts for copies of the edition. Foreman L. H. O'Brien is a subscriber, as is also Mr. Walsh and Supt. Jno. W. Logsdon, of Evansville. We want every employee of the H. D. to get this edition of THE BEE and feel sure it is well worth the price asked.

GOV. FRANCIS GRATIFIED.

The President of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. Gratified With the Dedication Showing.

St. Louis, May 2.—Hon. David R. Francis, president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co., says: "I feel gratified beyond expression at the success of the ceremony of the first day of the dedication. The crowds along the line of march were larger than I have ever seen in St. Louis or elsewhere. The military parade was a credit to the grand marshal and the troops that participated therein."

"The addresses of the president and Mr. Cleveland, were able and scholarly, and will live. The representatives of foreign governments who are in attendance expressed themselves as being deeply impressed, and the effect will be a still greater effort on the part of their governments to make characteristic and profitable exhibits."

HENRY YATES DIES SUDDENLY.

Illinois Superintendent of Insurance Stricken By Apoplexy at His Home.

Springfield, Ill., May 2.—Henry Yates, state superintendent of insurance, and brother of Gov. Yates of Illinois, died at his home, No. 130 East Charles street, about 10:30 Friday morning. A stroke of apoplexy was the cause of death.

The attack was sudden and unexpected. Mr. Yates arose from his bed about 1:30 o'clock and went to his bathroom. A moment afterwards his wife heard him fall. She ran to his assistance and found him lying unconscious on the floor.

Gov. Yates, who was in St. Louis, not having returned from attending the dedication ceremonies of the World's fair, was notified by telegram and hastened to Springfield by the first train.

Both addresses were heard by immense crowds of people and were received with the greatest enthusiasm. After laying the cornerstone for the Y. M. C. A. building, the president was conducted to the residence of William E. Vreelandburg, of Springfield, to temporarily fill the office of state superintendent of insurance, in place of Henry Yates, brother of the governor, whose death occurred Friday. MINES AND MINING NEWS

A rise in the pensions of the French miners, one of the demands of last year's colliers' strike in France, has been resolved upon by the French Senate.

The anti-strike legislation of The Netherlands Parliament, which has received the approval of the Crown, is sweeping in its character. This legislation was induced by the strike of railway employees which several months ago crippled the transportation service of the country which is in control of the State. One of the laws just enacted provides for the organization of a railroad brigade to prevent interruption of the traffic; another authorizes a royal commission to adjudicate the grievances of railway employees, and another places strikes in the list of criminal offenses, and imposes punishment of fine and imprisonment upon persons who instigate strikes.

The drilling outfit of Mr. Dowdnu who has recently been putting down holes for pumping water out of the Hecla mine, is being moved to the White Plains country this week to test the coal lands of that section. Mr. Dowdnu is an experienced drill man. He will probably operate in the oil fields of South Central Kentucky after he secures the sort of a drilling outfit he desires. The one he has operated here is too small for oil wells.

General Treasurer W. E. Wilson, of the U. M. W. of America reported for the year 1901 a donation from the National Treasury of the organization amounting to $104,000 to Secretary-Treasurer Campbell of District 23. For 1902 he reports a donation of $42,500 up to June 30, making a total of $146,500 controlled by the National Board and used ostensibly for the purpose of organizing Hopkins county. This money established camps and bought the guns with which Officer Coffey and Miner Gocho were killed. Three members of the U. M. W. are now serving life sentences in the penitentiary for these murders, and several other members are in jail awaiting trial for complicity in the Coffey murder. How proud Treasurer Wilson must feel over the work his money accomplished.

Local No 2181 of Sturgis, Ky., contributed $3.00 to the anthracite strikers during 1902 and is reported to have suffered severely from that tired feeling after so severe an effort. Local No. 1868, of Island, Ky., beat this record by giving $10.70 to the same fund.

Whatecroft, Ky., has two locals No. 1877 and 1884 the first sending the anthracite miners $504.71, the other $137.00. The smallest contributor to this fund was Local 1840 at Smithinton in District No. 5, the amount donated being just $1.10.

Joseph J. Jernyn of the anthracite field says: "Our company mines 500,000 tons of coal a year, but would produce much more if the men could be prevailed upon to work. Even when the stress was the greatest and coal was most in demand the miners refused to work over six or seven hours and took holidays whenever they liked, sometimes six or seven days in succession."

Clarence F. Darrow received a fee of $15,000 for legal services to the union miners in their case before the Anthracite Strike Commission.

It is reported that five of the largest coal companies at Jellico,

Tenn., have voluntarily granted an advance of 10 per cent in wages to their employees.

The Uniontown Telegram says the "St. Bernard Coal Co" has acquired several hundred acres of coal lands in the vicinity of Blackford. The officials of the St. Bernard Mining Company say the company has no holdings about Blackford. There is some prospecting with a drill in that vicinity but it is not that company that is doing it.

The annual meetings of the stockholders of the Atpontley Coal Co., were held in the office of the company at this place yesterday morning, routine business was transacted and the old officers re-elected. The company's property in Tennessee is now a producer and its output is expected to increase to worthy proportions shortly. Mr. Jno. B. Atkinson is President and Paul M. Moore Secretary and Treasurer of the company. The Board of Directors chosen yesterday consist of Messrs. Jno. B. Atkinson, C. B. Finley, M. Cain, Jas. R. Rash and Paul M. Moore.

Mr. Eskridge, for some time prominently connected with the Central Coal and Iron Co., at Louisville, is now with the Crabtree Coal Mining Co., at Ilay. Mr. Eskridge is an experienced coal man having devoted himself for years to the office end of the business.

The miners at Crabtree have a warm place in their heart for Walter Wright who recently terminated his connection with the Crabtree Coal Mining Co., to resume work for the L. & N. at this place and in his old place with Mr. O'Brien. Since they could not see his face except through the dim perspective of their friendly remembrance of its good natured roundness, they are now falling over each other for a chance to vote him the most handsome man on the Henderson division.

Jim Wood failed to meet his admiring friends at Madisonville Saturday as advertised. Board member Plackman expected to parade the various units that held forth in that city, the Carpenters, Hard-carriers, Washermen, Bricklayers, Whitewashers, Blacksmiths, Cooks, Painters, Scrubwomen, Paper hangers, Sweepers, Dusters, Porters, Mortar-mixers, Street cleaners and loafers with Plackman representing the U. M. W. of A. and Cook of the Federation of Labor in the lead (supposedly in a carriage with a union driver imported from Evansville for the momentous occasion) the proposed route march being from the lodge rooms to the court house where the great expounder of truth was to hold forth. He was expected to talk on brotherly love and tell of his efforts to organize the cooks of "K" but not to tell what became of the quarter of a million dollars his order expended during the past three years in a vain effort to organize Hopkins county.

George Faulk, the experienced Mine Superintendent of St. Charles, recently spent two weeks at Atpontley, Tenn., for the Atpontley Coal Co. Mr. Faulk knows that field, having formerly engaged in mining at Tracy City, and is therefore acquainted with the peculiarities of the veins to be found there. He will go to Atpontley again in a few days to spend some weeks aiding in the development and extension of the Atpontley Mine.

The new No. 11. Tipple is a model coal handling machine. The big shinking screens were built by the Earlington Iron Works.

Throughout the Indiana gas belt, where nonunion unions have been formed, the project is spreading rapidly. Labor organizations regard the movement with disquietude.

The number of persons occupied in the world's mining operations in 1901 was 4,700,073, of which number 1,021,620 were engaged in Great Britain and Ireland, the Colonies, Dependencies and Possessions.

An electric car at Pittsburg became unmanageable and was wrecked, injuring forty-five passengers, one of them fatally.

MORE FAKE DISPATCHES.

There is a note of promise to be found in an article bearing the title of "Fake Specials," which appeared in the Madisonville Hustler of last Friday. For some time past, as THE BEE has several times called to the attention of the public, Madisonville and surrounding territory has been systematically victimized by the sensational and often ridiculous reports that have been sent out from that place, apparently by some fledgling of a reporter who seemingly did not mean to lie outright but was simply unable to recognize a plain fact when he met it in the road. The identity of this reporter or of these reporters is unknown to us, and our estimate of them was and is made wholly upon the character and composition of their special dispatches, which is illustrated by the following dispatch sent from Madisonville last week:

Suicide By Poison.

Madisonville, Ky., May 1.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion McChard was the scene of a horrible suicide yesterday afternoon when the young husband suicided by poisoning himself. Why this rash act of Mr. McChard was committed is not known, and an investigation is being made. He was an insurance agent.

This dispatch made Mr. McCord a citizen of Madisonville, a young man and an insurance agent, and stated in positive terms that he suicided by taking poison. The facts are, as published in this paper today that Mr. Marion McCord was a long time resident of Earlington, a well known and competent contractor and builder, a man of middle age and that he did not commit suicide. His death was sudden and out of a chance remark grew a rumor that he might have taken poison; but there were no facts to back up the rumor and no steps were taken toward making any investigation. His death simply followed a period of hard drinking and ended the life of a man of large native ability, eminently competent in his chosen vocation, whose better self had many friends and was in turn a bearer of staunch and loyal friendship.

But the Madisonville Hustler puts a different and a more serious phase upon the work of these fake correspondents and says that many alleged news items sent out from that place are fabrications and "absolutely without any foundation whatever."

There has been enough of this false and irresponsible "news" reporting from the county seat in the past two years, during which time matters of large moment were at times daily and viciously misrepresented. It is high time to call a halt and to insist that Hopkins county affairs, even personal and trivial, be reflected in conscientious and painstaking work on the part of the reporters for the press.

The Bee has been first to lead in this protest and is ready at all times to do all in its power to have Hopkins county correctly and creditably reported to the outside world. It is time that news editors of the dailies were investigating.

Mrs. Drusella Wellford was convicted at Memphis of the murder of C. W. Dewey March 5.

That man exchange says some good things occasionally and here is one of them: "A newspaper is like a man because it reflects the sentiments of some man, and it should be judged on a broad plan. No man lives a perfect life; no editor prints a perfect paper. If an editor is honest he is bound to offend some one every week of his life, if he never offends he must be of the namby-pamby sort, who cater to all sides and never amount to anything. The same thing is true of the average man. A newspaper is necessarily compelled to make some mistakes. In getting the news it has to take hearsay in a great many instances and try as they may to be accurate some errors will creep in. But the paper that gives the news impartially week after week and year after year, the paper that stands for decency and honesty, speaks well of those who try to do good and condemns fraud and dishonesty in every form, is a good paper."

The Kentucky Institution for the education of the Blind is one of the institutions that is little known by the people of Kentucky. It teaches such crafts as can be mastered by the blind and makes life vastly brighter for those who sit in such dark places. The Kentucky Institution is in first rank with such schools in the United States.

The notorious Hearst of the New York Journal is enjoying an outing in California while his lawyers are busy worrying the presidents of the coal carrying roads by the use of the interstate commerce laws. These busy officials are kept under subpoena for days and their affairs interfered with as much as possible. Mr. Baer has again distinguished himself as a great business man and a great lawyer during his examination before the commission.

Prize fighting is again enjoying the protection of the law in Louisville, under decision rendered by Judge Asher Caruth Saturday last. An attempt upon the part of prominent attorneys and gentlemen of that city to prevent the fight between Kid Broad and Benny Yanger met defeat and the fight was pulled off that night at the Auditorium. Aaron Kohn and his partners were attorneys for the pugs.

A REVELATION TO ALL

Dedication of the World's Fair Opened the Eyes of All Visitors to the Magnitude of the Exposition.

Though Kentucky was not represented officially by its State Government at the dedication of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis last week, there was a good sprinkling of residents of the Blue Grass State at the ceremonies, the Kentucky Exhibit Association having sent over a good delegation of officers, members and committeemen. Every visitor from this Commonwealth found what has been said in these columns for the past few months to be absolutely true, that is, that the Exposition will be the greatest in the history of nations.

The tour of the grounds after the military parade gave the visitors from Kentucky an idea of the magnitude of the undertaking, at whose head is a former Kentuckian—Gov. David Rowland Francis, born in Madison county.

WHY?

The reason One Minute Cough Cure relieves a cough in one minute, is because it acts directly on the membrane lining the cough trouble—in the throat or deep-seated in the lungs—by dissolving the mucus or cough germ and clearing the passages. The One Minute Cough Cure will not only remove the mucus and clear out the throat, but it gives strength and elasticity to the delicate membranes which protect the throat and lungs. Opens the air passages, and promotes the absorption of oxygen. Causes the blood to receive its natural supply of oxygen, thus eliminating the pulmonary troubles which cause the cough. It is a powerful expectorant, and gives strength and vigor that the lungs and bronchial tubes become healthy and free from mucus. It cures Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Croup of the Lungs and all Pulmonary Complaints. It is a sure and quick cure for the use of.

One Given to Every Person Sending in Ten Votes in the School Teachers' Popularity Contest.

Acting on the suggestion of numerous educators of the State, the Kentucky Exhibit Association has determined to give a souvenir button, the regular price of which is $1, to every person who casts 10 votes in the School Teachers' Popularity Contest, or forms a club of 10 and thereby casts 10 votes.

The plan of the Association to send the 125 most popular teachers in the State—one from every county, two from the county, outside of Jefferson, casting the largest number of votes, and five from Louisville, because it has 40,000 school children to the World's Fair, with all expenses paid, has started off with a big success, but as it is the sale of the Souvenir Buttons are for the same purpose—raising money to erect the Kentucky building at the exposition—it is natural that the two schemes should be worked together.

Remember then that every 10 votes cast in the contest entitles them to a souvenir button free. Remember, too, that the purchaser of a souvenir button may cast 10 votes in the contest, without any additional expenditure.

TWO PRIESTS.
One Lost His Toga, the Other Should Be Canonized.

The Evansville Economist says: It will be remembered that a priest by the name of McGrady traveled all over the country lecturing on socialism. He appeared on the lecture rostrum in this city, and the socialists were most pleased with him, but it seems that the pope was not pleased with the way McGrady neglected his pastoral duties, and after due investigation divested him of his priestly robes, and now McGrady is an ordinary citizen.

The following dispatch shows how another Catholic divine looked at his duties:

St. Johns, N. B., April 28.—In a pastoral letter the Most Rev. Paul Bruchet, Roman Catholic archbishop of Montreal, condemns labor leaders and organizers and advises the laboring classes to pay no heed to strike agitators, but to look for arbitration of just and reasonable demands.

"Responsibility is not incurred by these leaders and writers who profit by the slightest conflict between labor and capital to foment discord and rebellion and to inspire hatred towards employers. They are the most dangerous foes of the people whose interests they pretend to serve. Let not our laboring classes heed their suggestions. They have absolutely nothing to gain. Deceived by these false friends and urged on by them to commit the most lamentable acts they will, on the contrary, forfeit public sympathy."

STRIKE AT HOPKINSVILLE.

Recognition of The Union Said to Be The Real Issue.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 1.—The carpenters and joiners employed by three contracting and building firms of this city, Forbes Manufacturing Company, Benton Contracting Company and Daggs Planing Mill Company, went out on a strike this morning. They demand five cents per hour increase in wages, and recognition of the union, the latter being the real issue.

More Than Hands Soft.
"Yes, my hands are soft," said a conceited young fellow the other night in a small company as he admiringly looked at those useless appendages that had never done a day's work. "Do you know how I do it?" he exclaimed proudly. "I wear gloves on my hands every night to sleep."

"Do you sleep with your hat on also?" asked a pert young woman. And the young fellow replied in the negative and looked wonderingly because the company smiled—Ex.

A WORD TO FARM TOILERS.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Home Friend of the Farmer and His Family.

After the labors and toils of the summer time, and harvesting of crops in the early autumn, many our farmers, their wives, daughters, and sons, find themselves in a condition of health demanding careful attention if suffering to be avoided later on. Many experience kidney trouble in some form; with some the liver is torpid; there is biliousness, nausea, and vomiting, with loss of appetite and depression of spirits. Thousands who have been exposed to cold, damp winds and rains while toiling in the harvest field, now feel the twinges of terrible rheumatism; others run down by worry, overwork, and irregular dieting, are tormented with the pangs of dyspepsia. To the thousands of run down, sickly, and half-broken men and women in farm homes we recommend with all honesty and confidence the friend, Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine that can quickly and fully restore strength to the weak body and vigor to the muscles. Paine's Celery Compound tones the stomach; it removes the poisonous acids from the blood which cause rheumatism; it feeds the weak and diseased nerves and banishes the nervous torments; it restores the blood and gives true vitality and life. The use of Paine's Celery Compound is the most reliable and establishing of a perfect physical vigor to withstand the rigors of a severe winter.

JUDGMENT SUSPENDED.

Sixty Days Given by Judge Cantrill to Take Appeal in Howard Case.

AFFIDAVITS FILED BY BOTH SIDES.

Frankfort, Ky., May 2.—Jim Howard was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Franklin Circuit Court to day and at once prayed an appeal to the Court of Appeals. Affidavits were filed by the attorneys for the defense from W. L. Grody, H. F. Johnson and A. J. Woodford. These affidavts stated that prior to the trial they heard Jurors Renshaw and Neale prejudice the case, expressing a belief in Howard's guilt, and say that if they were summoned on the jury they would hang him. Other affidavts were filed that Commonwealth's Attorney Eranklin and his assistant counsel, Mr. Campbell, had referred to evidence of the previous trials.

Counter-affidavits were filed by the Commonwealth's Attorney.

Judge Cantrill suspended judgment sixty days to take the appeal, and ordered Howard sent back to Georgetown, where he will remain in the Scott county jail pending the appeal.

The case of Cabel Powers, to be called at Georgetown next week for a third trial, may be continued until a special term, in July or August.

GEORGE ADE'S LATEST JOKE.

He Distributes Handbills Directing Attention to a Bridal Couple.

(Lafayette, Ind., telegram to the New York World.)

George McCutcheon, author, and George Ade, author of the "Sultan of Sulu," attended the wedding here of Miss Bertha Stimpson and Edgar S. Miller, brother of the Assistant Secretary of the Interior. Before leaving Chicago Mr. Ade had a lot of handbills printed, calling attention to the wedding. These handbills were kept under cover by him until Mr. and Mrs. Miller were comfortably seated in a Big Four car, waiting to start for Washington on their wedding trip.

He and McCutcheon boarded the train and passed through it from end to end, seeing that every passenger had one of the little bills, which contained the following postscript: "The bride is a niece of M. E. Ingalls and rides on a pass, but the bridegroom will have to pay his fare." Mr. and Mrs. Miller were unconscious of the joke that had been played on them until they saw the unusual attention paid them by the passengers.

The Worry of Money.

The troubles of the rich received a forcible illustration in a recent conversation between Senator Clark, of Montana, and one of his friends. The Senator said that he had once received from an English syndicate an offer of $80,000,000 for his mining property.

"Why didn't you take it?" asked his friend.

"I want to live a little longer," was the ambiguous answer.

"What do you mean?"

"Well," said the Senator slowly, "it may seem strange to you, but if I had sold out for $80,000,000 I wouldn't be alive today. I firmly believe. Just think what it means to invest $80,000,000! All the work and worry suffered by all mankind since the death of Adam would not be equal to the work and worry involved in trying to invest that amount and invest it right. No, sir; I want to live, and I declined the job. I'm too old for work like that."

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

A Bit of Howell Shop Philanthropy.

A certain well-to-do employee in the car department at Howell, who, for the sake of convenience, we will call A. S., as those are the initials of his full name, has been coming to work for some time wrapped in a very ragged coat, which, however, served the purpose of keeping the cold from his back, as well as serving his fellow-workmen as a fitting object to joke and have all manner of fun about. Of course all this joking was done in the presence of A. S., but he continued to wear his ragged coat in spite of it, until one day last week, when the boys decided to open their hearts and buy him a new coat. They wanted it presented in style and accordingly selected T. D. L. to make a speech for the occasion at noon hour. After the boys had eaten their dinner the speaker, with a bundle under his arm, stepped on a block of wood and after the manner of an experienced orator, although he stammered a little, addressed the audience of merry folk before him as follows:

"Gentlemen: That there is more of the milk of human kindness existing in the Howell car shop to the square inch than in any other spot of the same dimensions within a thousand miles of us, has been demonstrated time and time again. (Applause) All this grand talk of Carnegie and his libraries, and all other great philanthropists, who hold the attention of our nation today, are cast into the shade and dwindle into insignificance, when compared with the broad generosity of men who work in this department. (Applause) Heretofore, gentlemen, we have confined our charities to assisting those among us who have met with great misfortunes, of one kind or another, or relieving the wants of the widows and orphans. But this vein of human kindness I have just mentioned, which seems to have reached its greatest depth and breadth in our shop, has broadened its field, and has taken upon itself the loving task of clothing the naked and the ragged, as well as feeding the hungry, and that this new departure may be fittingly inaugurated today, I have been commissioned to present to the raggedest man in the shop a brand new coat, and if Mr. A. S. will kindly step forward and receive it, my commission will have been finished." (Loud and continued applause as A. S. steps forward.)

Cheap Homes in Texas and Arkansas.

Along the Cotton Belt Route—land that can be bought for $2.00 to $5.00 an acre and up-cut-over timber ground that makes good grazing land. Farming ranges, ten or eleven months of the year, farming land for corn, wheat, oats, cotton—some of it peculiarly adapted to quick growth and early maturity of fruits and vegetables, such as peaches, pears, plums, strawberries, tomatoes, potatoes, onions, cabbage, melons—finding good markets in the north at fancy prices, on account of excellence of quality and earlier maturity than in other sections. An ideal place for the man of small means—cheap fuel, cheap building material, long growing seasons, short, mild winters—a land of sunshine and plenty. Let us send you literature descriptive of this country.

"Homes in the Southwest," "Glimpses of Southeast Missouri, Arkansas and N. W. Louisiana," "Through Texas with a Camera," "Fortunes in Growing Fruits and Vegetables," "The Diverser," a full and frank grower's journal. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month the Cotton Belt Route will sell one way tickets from St. Louis, Thebes, Cairo and Memphis, to points in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, at half the one-way rate plus $2.00 or round trip tickets at one fare for the round trip plus $2.00, allowing stopover en route, and return limit of 21 days.

The Editor Was Kind.

A certain man died in Texas not long ago, says the Galveston News, leaving fourteen years of subscription due a local paper. The editor of the paper attended the funeral, and just before the lid of the coffin was screwed down for the last time, he placed a linen duster, a thermometer and a palm leaf fan on the remains of the unlamented dead. Although editors are not accustomed to accumulate riches, they always seem to be kind and considerate.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.

Planning For Agricultural and Horticultural Exhibits.

EVERYTHING GROWN TO BE SHOWN

"Herman Johnson Hopes to Make a Display of Fruit That Will Open the Eyes of World's Fair Visitors—A Special Committee For Every Classification.

Kentucky, since its invasion by Daniel Boone, has been known as an agricultural state in which could be grown anything that would thrive elsewhere in Uncle Sam's country.

While this fact is so generally known, the Kentucky Exhibit association has determined to make it better known to the thousands that will attend the World's fair in St. Louis next year. It has placed in charge of the collection of its agricultural display Col. Lon B. Nall, the State Commissioner of Agriculture, and Colonel Nall has surrounded himself by a committee thoroughly expert in their different departments. In a circular issued this week by Col. Nall to the 110 subcommittees in Kentucky, instructions are given for preparing this display.

"As the exhibit at St. Louis must be uniform in itself and conform to the requirements of the World's fair officials as to awards, etc., it is necessary," states Col. Nall, "that samples from each county shall be of the same dimensions as far as possible."

Col. Nall has divided the general exhibit into classes and placed at the head of each subdivision a special chairman. On corn he has named F. W. Waddy of Waddy for the eastern district and J. B. Walker of Hopkinsville for the western district. J. B. Smith is to look after grasses in general, while the Hon. J. J. Johnson of Louisville will have supervision over the grasses from the mountains.

M. F. JOHNSON,
Chairman Horticultural Committee.

There will be three subdivisions on tobacco, as follows: The burley type, H. M. Froman, Ghent; the dark export type, Samuel R. Ewing, Owensboro; the "purchase" types, Judge T. T. Gardner, Bardwell. Major David Castan of Pleasant Hill is to look after the hemp display. On garden products, the services of Clarence Sale of Louisville have been secured. Dr. P. W. Foote of Irvington will give the exhibit the benefit of his wide experience in silos and forage plants. A deal of space is to be devoted to novelties, and the Hon. J. W. Kennedy of Union will look after them.

The association has secured 5,000 square feet of space in the Agricultural building for its general agricultural display. This is exclusive of 5,000 square feet to be given Kentucky tobacco, which will be in charge of a special exhibit committee appointed for the purpose, and 2,000 square feet for whisky, also in charge of a special committee. On Col. Nall's committee there are two members who will look after the horticultural and horticultural display. The former is M. F. Johnson, President of the Kentucky Horticultural society, and the latter Henry Nanz of Louisville. Col. Nall has had a reservation of 2,000 square feet of space made for these two displays in the Horticultural building.

In his latest circular of instructions Col. Nall calls upon the county committees, the total membership of which amounts to 425, to collect complete exhibits in all classifications.

For the grains he gives the following specific instructions:

Corn—Entire stalk, 10 in. number, with blades, ears and tassels complete, ears, 10 in. number; shelled, one-third gallon in strong cotton bag. The varieties should all be shown, white, yellow, red, mixed, popcorn, flint corn, etc.

Wheat—Sheaf, nine inches in diameter, bound with twine or wire; threshed, one-fourth bushel in cotton bag; should be shown in every variety grown in the state. The macaroni and Elmer wheat should be shown.

Oats—Sheaf, nine inches in diameter, bound with twine or wire; shelled, one-fourth bushel in cotton bag; black, white, mixed, winter and every other variety.

Rye—Sheaf, nine inches in diameter, bound with twine or wire; threshed, one-fourth bushel in cotton bags. White, black and any other variety known to be grown in the state.

Barley—Sheaf, nine inches in diameter, bound as above; threshed, one-fourth bushel in cotton bags.

Buckwheat—Sheaf, nine inches;

threshed, one-fourth bushel in cotton bags.

He includes under grasses everything grown in the state, whether for meadow, pasture or forage, including the following: Clover, timothy, blue grass, orchard grass, herds grass, red top, Bermuda grass, crab grass, sorghum, corn, milo, milo maize. He wants these samples made about six or seven inches in diameter for the long grasses, and less for the short ones. In long bales he permits a large stick bound in to give strength. The seeds of each variety of grass known to grow in the state are asked for.

Two or three good samples of tobacco from each tobacco-growing county are asked for. Col. Nall states that it is the purpose of the committee to show tobacco from the seed to the sample, as sold on the market. He also hopes to exhibit growing tobacco plants from next year's crop. Destructive insect enemies of tobacco will also be exhibited.

Hemp is to be shown in all stages, from seed to list. An old-fashioned break will be taken over to the exposition and an exhibition of breaking hemp given by the champion breaker of 1903, whoever that may be. Hemp breakers with good records should do best this year and receive this honor. Col. Nall hopes to make a distinctive list of hemp manufacture. He has asked for samples of 1904. Col. Nall wants packages, and samples of bundles (each given in diameter at the middle).

No instructions are given at this time as to the preparation of the garden products exhibit, as it is the purpose of Mr. Sale to show the greater part of this display from the crop of 1904. Col. Nall has also made a list of novelties of every kind gathered this year and preserved in such quantities as may be thought advisable. He throws in a rather encouraging sentence: "The growing of seeds for market can be profitably done in this state. There are some in which we lead."

As to silos and forage plants, it is announced that an effort will be made to secure a large giant tube which will exhibit silage. The leguminous plants useful for forage and hay will be gathered under this department. Samples of the silage should be made each, should be preserved in the most attractive way and securely wrapped. One of the features of the agricultural exhibit will be the display of novelties. Every freak of nature is to be shown, from the largest pumpkin and the twin ear of corn to the stalk with the most ears on the stalk. The native wild products are to find a place here, such as nuts, grapes, pawpaws, black and white.

Mr. Johnson is convinced that the horticultural display at the exposition shall equal that of any state in the Union. He wants the display to keep a continuous display of fruits in season during 1904, but not to rely too much on next year, he is planning to secure some of the finest varieties and keep them in glass for the fair. Some of the best samples of the late apple crop will be preserved in cold storage.

CONTEST IN THE AIR.

Unique as an attraction will be the exhibits of airplanes, balloons, gliding machines and kites at the St. Louis World's fair. No such display has ever been attempted at any exposition.

The aeronautic contest has caused the widest interest that even at this date its success is assured. Santos-Dumont, Sir Hiram Maxim, Professor Langley and other inventors of international fame are busily engaged perfecting new crafts with which to navigate the air in the races scheduled for 1904. One of the franchises an entire block of land is tenanted by persons who are building an immense airship in which they propose to fly to St. Louis. Several machines resembling a bat in appearance are being constructed near Bridgeport, Conn., and at Frankfort, N. Y., there is a balloon farm where experiments are being made with a number of new flying creations.

The Chief of Transportation Exhibits is in correspondence with more than 250 persons who are contemplating participation in the contest. No inventor can compete for the grand prize of $10,000 who cannot give satisfactory proof that he has made a flight over at least a mile course and return.

This great race will be over a 10-mile course shaped like a letter "L," which will be marked at the turns by captive balloons, and the prize will be awarded to the competitor who averages speed during three trips shall be the greatest.

Many other prizes have been offered. One of $2,500 is for the flying machine, carrying an operator which will make the fastest straightaway run of one mile and return. Two thousand dollars for the fastest machine, mounted by an operator, which shall advance at a vertical angle most acute with the horizon. Two prizes are offered for the fastest machine, mounted by an operator, which shall advance at a vertical angle most acute with the horizon.

Four prizes of $5,000 each will attract balloonists as well as airship inventors. One is for the greatest altitude attained; the second for the longest time in air; the third is for the aeronaut landing nearest the Washington monument, the start being made from the exposition grounds, and the fourth is for the longest journey in any direction, starting from the exposition grounds.
